CASES OF LEPROSY

People Have a Wrong
Idea of the Disease

New York, Dec. 30.—Nine lepers, inmates of institutions in the vicinity of this city, were exhibited last night for public examination at a gathering of physicians in the Academy of Medicine. One of the patients, a Chinaman, from Paterson, N. J., two years ago, was taken to the hospital, where he was held, but there is little probability that an inmate will be held necessary, as the girl had long been a victim to the drug habit.

Grace Gillard, as she was known in police circles, was the daughter of parents of unquestioned respectability who live in Salt Lake. When only a young girl she was led into the downward path and in the past two years has been a confirmed user of drugs. It was only Wednesday that she completed a thirty-day jail sentence, and immediately returned to her accustomed habits and old haunts.

The girl entered the noodle house, and according to those present, showed every symptom of being under the influence of opium. She was seized with a paroxysm, sank to the floor and expired in a few minutes.

The purpose of exhibiting the lepers is stated to be the beginning of an effort "to educate the public away from the hysterical attitude it has heretofore shown whenever the presence of a leper became a matter of general knowledge."

There are now on record, it was asserted, 273 cases of leprosy in the United States, 176 of them being men and 102 women. Five seaboard states contain almost all the recorded cases. New York, South Carolina, Florida, California and Massachusetts leading in the order named.

Dr. Chas. Duvall of Tulane university at New Orleans, described his experiences in segregating the bacilli of the disease and his final success in propagating the germs outside of the human body.

LARGE FAMILY TO SOLVE A PROBLEM

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Four hundred members of the Ton family, who live within a radius of three miles of 113th street and Michigan avenue, have taken up the subject of the high cost of living and propose, if possible, to develop a plan to reduce it. The family, which is the largest in the city, has organized a committee to investigate and report on what can be done to cut a nick in the high cost of living for the benefit of the whole family. The committee is then proposed to open a big co-operative general store where produce and general supplies will be sold to members of the family at wholesale prices.

"We are simply meeting an economic evolution of the times," said Cornelius J. Ton, "We claim to be the largest family in Illinois. Our challenge to this claim has never yet been taken up, so it is but natural that we should take the lead in this effort to hand families against the economic crisis that is being met by the individual consumer."

The Tons have hired a large hall in which to hold a family reunion on New Year's day.

STUDYING THE LATE ENGLISH ELECTIONS

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 30.—Yale university has called on a London bureau to procure copies of all printed and pictorial literature issued in England by either party during the campaigns of this year. Copies of every election address, political pamphlet, cartoon, leaflet and poster issued anywhere in the country, are to be procured, together with newspaper clippings and similar matter along political lines.

The object is to obtain for students of English history a representative collection of all phases of political thought that this important period in the development of the British constitutional crisis has developed.

TELEPHONE CALL TELLS OF A MURDER

Pueblo, Colo., Dec. 30.—A mysterious telephone call directed the police to a lonely road on the outskirts of the city, where they found the body of a man. The man, an Italian, 22 years old, had been shot in the chest. The empty rifle cartridges were found near the body. There was no money on the body, but a watch remained in his pocket.

Despite recent Black Hand activities here, the police do not connect the organization with the murder. No clue has been obtained to the identity of the person who telephoned instructions regarding the location of the body.

TRINKET SHIP TO DEAL WITH NATIVES

New York, Dec. 30.—Not since the days of African slave traffic has a ship been dispatched from New York with a general cargo for bartering purposes with the natives of the "Dark Continent" until today. Sailing this morning, the Earl Woermann of the Hamburg-American line will steam for West Africa parts on the first of a series of voyages in which American and German manufactured products will be exchanged for products of the coast tribes.

More than 100 ports scattered along the west coast of Africa will be visited by the "trinket ship." Practically none of these ports has any regular medium of exchange. The freighter will put off knives, mirrors, beads, soap, paint, pipes, perfumery and other articles from the heart of Broadway, receiving in return ivory, ebony, nuts, gums, ginger, palm kernels and oil.

The skipper is familiar with the vanities of the tribes. Sweets, and silk hats share a place in his cargo, with phonographs and galvanic batteries guaranteed to tickle the foot of the most solemn and dignified chiefs. The trip of the Woermann will take three months.

UNREST AMONG THE PORTUGUESE

London, Dec. 30.—Private advices received from Lisbon today confirm the published statements that decided unrest and dissatisfaction prevail there, particularly among the working classes.

A rising against the provisional government, which was established after King Manuel had been deposed, is threatened. No outbreak has occurred yet.

The foreign office has received word from the British minister at Lisbon, indicating the existence of a critical situation in Portugal, nor has the minister asked that a British warship be dispatched to Lisbon as reported.

GOES HOME WITH HIS NECK BROKEN

Salt Lake, Dec. 30.—William Illingsworth, a Salt Lake teamster, four weeks ago, was thrown from his wagon and suffered a broken neck. Thursday he was able to leave St. Mark's hospital, where he has been under treatment, and is now at his home, 860 South Third East street, able to eat, to walk a little and to find some pleasure.

For which included a pronounced fracture of the third and fourth cervical vertebrae, Illingsworth's life hung in the balance, but Dr. H. B. Sprague, his attending physician, never lost hope.

The injured man's head is supported in a plaster cast, but if present gains are maintained, recovery sufficient to permit its removal is expected within three months.

PRICE OF LUMBER HIGHER.

Seattle, Dec. 30.—Several of the leading lumber manufacturers of western Washington yesterday lifted the selling price of rough fir lumber $1 per thousand, marking the first advance in months and ending, lumbermen believe, the period of low quotations that has prevailed since last June.

A large volume of eastern orders and promise of line yard buying, commencing about January 15, together with the knowledge that yellow pine manufacturers have just advanced prices from $1 to $1.50 a thousand, is responsible for the increased price. The new price on rough lumber will be $8.50 at the mills instead of $7.50.

Dr. Mark A. Matthews, a pastor of the First Presbyterian church, having the largest Presbyterian congregation in America, is 31 marriages behind the Rev. Hoshu Jufu.

VERY COLD IN WINNIPEG

Mercury Stands at 42
Degrees Below Zero
In Canadian City

Washington, Dec. 30.—Cold and storms will prevail throughout most of the country for the next forty-eight hours, according to the forecasters of the United States weather bureau.

From Florida to Maine, along the Atlantic coast, storm warnings are snapping in the rising gale, and the winter icy grip is tightening in the northwest where the mercury is standing at 20 degrees below zero in Duluth, Minn., and Devil's Lake, N. D.

These conditions, the weather bureau declares, are directly traceable to the passage northward of the storm that has been centered in the south. In the territory from the Appalachian range to the Rockies the mercury is falling steadily and the conditions are aggravated by another storm that is brewing in the extreme northwest.

In Winnipeg the mercury stands at 42 degrees below zero.

BLACK HAND WILL BURY A MAN ALIVE

New York, Dec. 30.—A flood of Black Hand letters has been the reward of the police officials and prosecutors whose recent successes against Italian kidnappers resulted in several long terms of imprisonment. The latest threat is in a letter which came to Police Commissioner Crosey a few days ago, demanding $50,000 and threatening, if the money was not paid, to bury him alive and kidnap his wife. The letter was turned over to postal inspectors for investigation.

OPENING OF THE CANAL

Preparations Being Made For Heavy Traffic
Across Panama

Washington, Dec. 30.—In view of the rapid approach of the date when the Panama canal will be thrown open to traffic, this allowing ships to pass from one ocean to the other without breaking cargo, it is a matter of interest reported in the Canal Record that the commission should find it necessary to enter on an extensive scheme of enlargement of the landing facilities at both ends of the canal.

Existing docks are to be carried hundreds of feet further into the bay on the Colon side and heavy steel cranes and concrete floors fitted to the docks at Balboa, on the Pacific side. All of the work is of a permanent character and is made necessary by the great increase in freight business between New York and San Francisco, resulting from the new service of the California and Atlantic steamship company and the importance of the Pacific mail service.

A fact of general significance to the canal interests is that freight is now being transported more rapidly by the Panama road in some instances than by the railroads across the continent. The transit time being from 23 to 30 days.

JOHNSON DENIES HE IS TO FIGHT

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight, said last night he had not signed any agreement to meet the winner of the Sam Langford-Joe Jeannette fight, as reported in a dispatch from Paris.

COLLEGE YELLS ARE APPROVED BY SMITH

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—Provost Edgar F. Smith of the university of Pennsylvania comes to the rescue of the college yell, recently condemned by President Lowell of Harvard.

Smith knows little or nothing about music, but I do know that there is nothing more inspiring on fit occasions than the college yell, while the college songs always appealed to me. Abolish the yell," By means.

As well think of abolishing the three cheers for the stars and stripes. The college yell expresses essentially the same enthusiasm and is equally inspiring. Some college yells are more inspiring than others, of course, depending largely on the institution to which one is attached, but all serve their purpose and I doubt if they do any permanent injury."

AUTOMOBILES ARE CUTTING UP ROADS

New York, Dec. 30.—The damage caused to the roads in Central Park by the ever-increasing automobile traffic will necessitate an expenditure by the city of nearly $500,000 during the next five years, according to the estimate in the report of the park commissioner that the material now used for paving the roads will never be able to withstand the onslaught of the heavy touring cars. All the principal figures in the report are based on the estimate that the number of automobiles will increase to 10,000 by the year 1915.

A Disease Which Must Be Battled Against

Commissioner Crichton declares in his announcement yesterday that unless the medical profession does something for these cases, children whose limbs have been paralyzed by the malady may become public charges. Economic effort now, he said, may prevent more serious and prolonged treatment in the after lives of the sufferers.

"There is no disguising the fact," Crichton asserted, "that in this disease the world is facing a serious situation, which yearly grows worse. Statistics prove this. Six years ago there were 250 cases in the entire world. Last year it had increased by leaps and bounds to more than 8,000—260 of which in this state and more than 100 in Seattle."

New York, Dec. 30.—Peace has come to Chinatown at last. With all the ceremonial display that might characterize an international treaty, the On Leong tong and the Four Brothers' society solemnly affixed their seals and signatures at midnight to the long talked of document, which re-establishes friendly relations after years of bloody warfare. In the shadow of the great joss which dominates the temple of the quarter and with the child ruler of the Flowery Kingdom represented in the persons of two attaches of the Imperial legation at Washington and Consul General Y. Yee Yung, the signatures were affixed and the signers shuffled away to feast in honor of the new-made peace.

The restoration of diplomatic relations followed interchange of ceremonial visits between the high contracting parties.
